“ Miss you dad! It hurts badly but I know you're in a better place. Fly "Freebird Fly". I'll apologize for Joyces (Your Sis) comment on the guestbook. It was disrespectful and no where close to the truth and us the family that loved you knows and understands. I know you still walk with me everyday and one day I'll be there to walk with you for eternity. I love you dad!

“ Dearest Bill, You were finally laid to rest FIVE weeks from the day your body was recovered. How sad that your "closest of kin" would not take off from work to have a service for you when you were actually buried, but waited until late in the evening (after work). None of your siblings attended, WHY would they? To stand around with an ex-wife of over 20 years who took such egotistical pride in "being in charge" and saying who was welcome or not? No matter, you never have to deal with those people again. We all loved you, Billy...all those gone before you and those few of us still left.
