“ I cant belive you are gone. We grew up together. We have done so many things threw the years from outdoors camping fishing sports I remember the time we played basketball and i slipped on the little rocks at the church and you helped me back home, and when you and joey put your football pads on me just because. The snakes that i never seemed to have enough emotion or urgancy in my voice to warn you they where right in front of us. I remember you sneeking into basketball games adn watching me play and some how finding away to be heard above all the rest. Threw the years I have moved away from home but when we crossed pathes we could talk for what seemed forever. You would talk about your work and your family. And id tell you all the stuff id managed to get myself into. You always put a smile on peoples face and I realy think that came threw this past weekend threw the tears and hurt some how we found times that we where laughing. Thank you for living your life to the fullest and being the amazing man that you are.

“We became really good friends about 5 years ago or so, I remember all the football games on Sundays the best. That's where we became such good friends. Along the years we have seen each other off and on and we have seen each other grow so much into the people we are today. We will miss running into you throughout town and at the kids football games. Your spirit and love is all around us and we could not have asked for a better person as a friend. We love you and will miss you dearly. Jessica and Connie, we will be praying for you guys as you deal with this loss. He was an awesome person filled with so much love.
