“ My family had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Lewis in the chemo room at Dr. Turner's office. My mother was diagnosed with colon cancer in December of 2007. Mr. Lewis and my mom were often taking treatments together. He was always seeming to bargain with the nurses to let him leave early to go fishing...even though he said he hated fishing. He seemed to be a very kind and straight-forward man with a smile that never seemed to stop. While taking those treatments, you meet many people and form this "new" type of family. Hearing of Mr. Lewis' death has saddened my family deeply. Although we know he is in a much better place free from sickness and pain, we will miss him, his stories and his smile till we see him again.

“ I am so sad to hear that uncle Lewis past away, but rejoice at the same time knowing that he is no longer suffering and will now be reunited with his lovely wife and my aunt Lovell, Please accept my most sincere condolences of the loss of this wonderful man, I want to let the family know that I will be keeping them in my prayers, I can remember as a child growing up down the hill from him and aunt Lovell, and each and every time I would walk in the house he always gave me candy and I never seen him unless he had a smile on his face.. Lewis was a very honerable man and never met a stranger, I thank God for allowing me the privilege of knowing him and having him as an uncle and a wonderful husband to my aunt. I will miss you greatly Uncle Lewis and I will always remember you as I you were " Always smiling" I love you... Tammy

“ Please accept my most sincere condolences on the loss of Mr. Johnson, I had the great pleasure of getting to know him at Gordon Health Center while I was doing my clinicals there, he was a great man, whom I have thought of quite often. I still can see his smiling face in my mind, and hear the talk of the 8 thousand dollars I owed him for that radio, and it brings tears to my eyes and a smile to my face. If he touched my life the way he did in just three days, I know he must have left a great impression on those friends and family so dear to his heart. My prayers will be with you all dearing your time of grief.
